Statistics

- Worldwide confirmed cases surpassed 31.2 million yesterday. Total fatalities stood close to 964,000.
- Nearly 8,800 new cases were reported across the ASEAN+3 region yesterday, slightly higher than the previous day's tally. The region has reached more than 810,000 total infections.
- Total confirmed cases in Myanmar surpassed 6,000 yesterday, as daily new infections continue to be reported in triple-digits.
- Korea confirmed 61 new infections, the fifth-straight day of declining new cases. Total confirmed cases stood around 23,100, with total fatalities close to 400.
- Daily new cases in Indonesia reached another record yesterday, after at least 4,170 additional infections were found. At least 120 deaths were also reported.
- Argentina reported 429 additional deaths yesterday, a new daily high, bringing total deaths to almost 13,500. More than 8,700 new infections were also recorded.

News

- Hong Kong today extended its social distancing measures for another week, and restrictions will be implemented until the first of October. Public gatherings will remain limited to four people or less, while restaurants and bars must close by midnight.
- Health authorities in Korea are asking people to stay home for the upcoming holidays next week. Authorities will also implement "special physical distancing restrictions" during the holidays, which fall between September 30 and October 4. More details on these restrictions will be announced this week.
- The Philippines yesterday announced that more local health professionals will be allowed to return overseas, specifically those with complete documents as of August 31. The country initially stopped the overseas deployment of its doctors, nurses, and other health workers last April.
- A total of 156 economies, representing at least 60 percent of the world's population, have joined the COVAX facility as of yesterday, according to the World Health Organisation. However, the United States has yet to sign up to the facility, as well as China, where discussions with officials are reportedly still ongoing.
