News

- Schools in Korea's capital Seoul, and surrounding areas, today resumed a limited mode of in-person classes for the first time in nearly a month. Students will be following a hybrid schedule of in-person and online classes in order to limit the number of people in schools at any time.
- With the recent trend in daily new cases, Myanmar announced a stay-home order for the residents of Yangon, its biggest city, effective today. Employees are now prompted to work from home, while schools remain closed.
- With daily new infections dwindling, New Zealand today lifted all of its remaining COVID-19 restrictions across the country, except for its largest city, Auckland. The city will continue to follow curbs, such as limits on crowds, for at least another 16 days.
- Japanese multinational Fujifilm Holdings will soon apply to produce and sell its antiviral drug, called Avigan, as a potential treatment for COVID-19. The health ministry reportedly has plans to fast-track the drug's approval, contingent on the results of the clinical trials.
