Statistics

- Worldwide cases reached 8,954,125 yesterday, with 468,357 fatalities, and around 4 million still recovering from the infection.
- In the ASEAN+3 region, 2,052 new cases were reported yesterday, 93 percent of which have been reported within the ASEAN.
- Indonesia saw 862 newly confirmed cases yesterday, slightly lower than the record 1,226 cases recorded on Saturday. This brings its total number of cases to 45,891, with total deaths at 2,465, the highest COVID-19 death toll in the region outside of China.
- Newly confirmed cases in the Philippines stood at 652, for a total of 30,052 cases.
- Brazil has exceeded the 1-million mark of confirmed cases yesterday, when it recorded a total of 1,085,038 confirmed cases, the second highest after the United States. Fatalities stood at 50,617. However, experts have pointed out that these numbers could be grossly underestimated, due to the lack of widespread testing.

News

- Researchers in the Institute of Medical Biology at the Chinese Academy of Medical Sciences, in China, have begun the second phase of a clinical trial for a COVID-19 vaccine candidate, which will further assess the effectiveness and safety of the potential vaccine.
- Last Saturday, Reuters reported that the United States has earlier rejected a request by Chinese airlines to increase weekly flights between the two economies, while clarifying that the decision was to “maintain the parity” in airline services between them.
